Grandma does not know which year she was born in. I know my father is fifty years old, so I estimate that she must be at least seventy. She is healthier ① than my father. In fact, she has never been in the hospital and criticizes my father for ② being weak and going to the hospital frequently. One of her pastimes ③ are telling us a lot of stories from legends and, best of all, ghost stories. She has also told many stories, ④ which she claims are her own adventures. She even claims that she was once ⑤ kidnapped by a devil and escaped three days later.

21. (A), (B), (C)의 각 네모 안에서 어법에 맞는 표현으로 가장 적절한 것은?

In the early days of automobiles, tires were seldom black. The rubber from which they were made was naturally colored off—white or tan. Today's black tires owe (A) its/their color to an accidental discovery. In 1885, a rubber tire company decided to try black tires, (B) thinking/thought that they might not show dirt. They added carbon black coloring to the rubber mixture. To their surprise, they discovered (C) that/what the carbon-colored rubber tires were five times more durable than the uncolored ones.

22. 다음 글의 필자 주장하는 바로 가장 적절한 것은?

You never know where a valuable relationship will start. The person you meet may have a friend or relative who can benefit you. So, when speaking to someone at a meeting or party, give that person your undivided attention. Suppose that you're talking with someone and then you notice some other person you consider more important. You may want to stop talking with him and abruptly break away to start a conversation with that other person. Don't do that! Treat every person you encounter with dignity and respect.

- ① 다양한 분야의 사람들과 교류하라.
- ② 모임에서는 격식에 맞는 행동을 하라.
- ③ 모든 대화 상대자를 소중하게 대하라.
- ④ 말을 할 때는 요점을 정확히 전달하라.
- ⑤ 대화를 할 때는 상대방의 의견을 존중하라.

23. 다음 글에서 전체 흐름과 관계 없는 문장은? [1점]

Beans are a good source of vitamins A and C and can be safely eaten every day, but should always be cooked before consumption. ① Raw beans contain hydrocyanic acid, which is poisonous and can cause sickness and blood pressure problems. ② Once cooked, however, beans can help lower blood pressure. ③ Recently, the number of blood donors has increased rapidly. ④ Beans contain a significant amount of calcium, the basic building material of all bones and teeth. ⑤ They are also rich in dietary fiber as well as protein.

[24 ~ 29] 다음 빈칸에 들어갈 말로 가장 적절한 것을 고르시오.

24. The willingness to _____ is very important in starting a new business. Instead of working in an already established business, an entrepreneur enters an area in which success is not guaranteed. Thus, a certain amount of uncertainty always exists for a new business. The point is whether you try or not. For example, Debbi Fields, the owner of a highly successful chain of cookie stores, was told to stay out of the business. People said that no one would buy her cookies, since cookies are available in supermarkets everywhere. Nonetheless, she was sure that there was a strong demand for fresh, hot cookies. She invested all her money and even persuaded a bank to finance her new business. Her venture proved to be successful—her company is worth over 450 million dollars today.

* entrepreneur: 사업가

- ① take a risk
- ② give up
- ③ share an idea
- ④ forgive others
- ⑤ learn from mistakes

25. I once worked with a talented engineer who really liked being with others. It was something he enjoyed. But since he was new to his firm, people didn't know him. When they saw him, they would see him in his office frowning and seeming very serious. His face said, "Stay away!" In reality, however, he was just focusing on what he was doing. One day, he realized that people misunderstood him. He worked on reminding himself to _____. When he did so, he seemed more approachable. As a result, he was able to get along better with his co-workers.

- ① show his creativity
- ② keep his inner peace
- ③ hide his real intention
- ④ use simple expressions
- ⑤ relax his facial muscles

26. On my first visit to heaven, I was surprised to see so many angels with only one wing. I asked one of the angels why he hadn't been healed. He didn't answer but simply turned and embraced another one-winged angel, and off they flew. It was so beautiful to see how a problem could be turned into a blessing by working together. It occurred to me that we could achieve a lot of things if we all embraced and accepted others. Imagine a world where we all _____; then all our actions would reflect the work of angels.

- ① pursue our own interests
- ② cooperate with each other
- ③ exercise on a regular basis
- ④ make an effort to drive out all evils
- ⑤ create more problems than we solve

27. When Samuel Kline, a successful businessman, came to Brazil from the United States, he saw many people were very poor. He decided to do something for the poor. He found a way to help them. He opened several stores where poor people can buy goods with small payments over time. Ninety percent of his customers buy without paying in cash or paying with a credit card. Most of them couldn't afford to buy goods elsewhere. They wouldn't be able to buy what they want and need if he weren't there. Samuel Kline has done a good thing for the poor by _____. [3점]

- ① donating a lot of money
- ② selling inexpensive products
- ③ offering them job opportunities
- ④ providing free delivery services
- ⑤ allowing them to buy things on credit

28. One important reason for the financial success of fast-food chains has been the fact that _____. Most workers are often teenagers, recent immigrants, or others in desperate need of a job. They are paid hourly wages without medical or other benefits. At most chains, employee wages are set by local managers. Some companies have rewarded managers who have reduced employee wages. This sometimes has led to abuse. Some managers, for instance, have required employees to work "off the clock" if they wished to keep their jobs. In this way, chains don't have to pay overtime wages.

- ① their labor costs are low
- ② they often offer free gifts
- ③ they train their staff regularly
- ④ their advertisements are effective
- ⑤ their employees are kind to customers

29. As parents, we must be prepared to _____. If we are to raise children properly, our words and actions must show them that none of their questions are silly or worthless. We must actively encourage the curiosity of our children by responding with such comments as "That's a wonderful question." When they repeat the same question a few times, we may say, "I'm glad you asked me again. Some things take time to learn." We have to realize that in most situations when we are learning something new, particularly when we are young, we need to hear it several times before it becomes part of our knowledge.

- ① admit our faults willingly
- ② be a role model for our children
- ③ ask our children as many questions as possible
- ④ teach our children effective ways of asking questions
- ⑤ answer the same questions from children repeatedly

30. 다음 글에 드러난 Daniel의 심경 변화로 가장 적절한 것은?

Now Daniel had to make the final decision. "Should we stay or leave? What if we get caught?" he thought. He was deeply concerned about the safety of his family. He finally made up his mind to fly to England in a tiny airplane. The plane took off, but he was still nervous as he was not sure of the success of the flight. He thought that if the plane were discovered by the German troops, he and his family might lose their lives in the air. As he almost reached England, the plane suddenly made a strange noise and began to shake, but somehow he managed to land safely in England, together with his wife and two daughters. His eyes were full of tears of joy when he saw the British soldiers waiting for them.

- ① bored → amused
- ② ashamed → proud
- ③ happy → depressed
- ④ worried → relieved
- ⑤ excited → disappointed

31. (A), (B), (C)의 각 네모 안에서 문맥에 맞는 낱말로 가장 적절한 것은?

The person who compares himself to others lives in a state of fear. He fears those who he imagines are above him. Believing them to be (A) inferior / superior, he feels he can never achieve their level of competence. He also fears those who are (B) above / below him because they seem to be catching up. He is always looking around him to see who is appearing as a threat. As he rises higher, his fear of falling increases. The only way to get through life, he concludes, is to beat people. But as long as he focuses on rising higher, his life (C) gains / loses its enjoyment.

* competence: 능력

32. 다음 글의 밑줄 친 부분 중, 문맥상 낱말의 쓰임이 적절하지 않은 것은? [3점]

Some lawyers are more skillful in typing than their assistants. Should such a lawyer ① fire his assistant and do his own typing? Not likely. Even though the lawyer may type ② better than the assistant, good judgement tells him to leave the typing to a lower-paid assistant. Why? Because an hour spent with clients is far ③ less profitable than an hour spent typing. The lawyer devotes himself to his legal work despite his ④ advantage as a typist because he has a greater advantage as a lawyer. He suffers some direct loss by leaving the typing to a less efficient ⑤ employee, but he more than makes up for that loss by the income he earns as a lawyer.

33. 다음 글의 빈칸 (A), (B)에 들어갈 말로 가장 적절한 것은?

Doing science in the school laboratory can be much more interesting than reading about it. (A), you must strictly follow safety rules in order to decrease the possibility of accidents. You can't predict when something will go wrong. Think of a person taking a trip in a car. Most of the time when someone drives somewhere in a vehicle, an accident like a car crash does not occur. But to be safe, drivers and passengers should always fasten their safety belts. (B), you should always wear and use safety gear in the laboratory—whether you are conducting an experiment or just observing. The most important part of any experiment is to conduct it safely.

[34 ~ 35] 다음 글의 주제로 가장 적절한 것을 고르시오.

34 Your house is no longer your castle when you work at home. It becomes the place where you get calls from annoying clients and where you make a mess with piles of paper. You may be bringing clients or customers into your home. Your family, your pets, your lifestyle, and even your dirty laundry may be visible to strangers. However, giving up privacy like this is just one consequence. You may also lose some of your space. Before starting the business, your family used the whole house. Now you have to use a room or two for business.

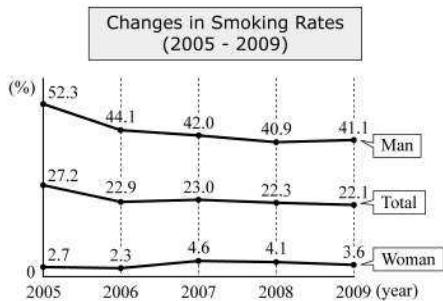

- ① recent trends in private business operations
- ② the importance of privacy at work
- ③ how to handle annoying clients
- ④ various ways of decorating your house
- ⑤ negative aspects of a home-based business

35 You put a lot of time, effort, and money into advertising. Of course, you want to know just how effective that advertising is. One sure way would be to track your income before and after the advertising campaign. If it is steadily increasing, it means that your advertising is paying off. Sometimes, you may want more specific evidence. You can place discount coupons in your newspaper ads. By counting the number of returned coupons, you can track the results in detail.

- ① 광고의 효과를 확인하는 방법
- ② 상업광고의 여러 가지 유형
- ③ 신문에 광고를 삽는 절차
- ④ 기업의 매출 신장을 위한 전략
- ⑤ 할인 쿠폰이 구매에 미치는 영향

36. 다음 도표의 내용과 일치하지 않는 것은?

The graph above shows the changes in smoking rates of an Asian country from 2005 to 2009. ① The total smoking rate was on the decrease except for one year. ② The male smoking rate continuously decreased from 2005 to 2008. ③ In 2009, however, the male smoking rate rose a little, compared to 2008. ④ In 2007, the female smoking rate, which was three times higher than that in 2006, reached the highest point. ⑤ The female smoking rate was on the decrease from 2007 to 2009.

37. toothfish에 관한 다음 글의 내용과 일치하는 것은?

The toothfish may not be the most beautiful creature you've ever seen, but it is a truly remarkable fish. It has adapted to the freezing conditions by developing a special 'antifreeze' component in its bodily fluids. It grows slowly and to more than two meters in length. It can live as long as 50 years and does not breed until it is at least ten years old. It lives in deep waters around most sub-Antarctic islands. Like many deep-sea species, little is known about the toothfish. Scientists estimate that it makes up almost 90 percent of the elephant seal's fish diet.

* elephant seal: 바다코끼리

- ① 추운 환경에 적응하지 못했다.
- ② 빠르게 성장하여 2미터까지 자란다.
- ③ 생후 10년이 지나야 번식할 수 있다.
- ④ 주로 얕은 바다에 서식한다.
- ⑤ 먹이를 두고 바다코끼리와 경쟁한다.

38. Nikola Tesla에 관한 다음 글의 내용과 일치하지 않는 것은?

Nikola Tesla was a tall, handsome man who spoke eight languages. He was also very unusual. He dressed in the best suits and always carried a silk handkerchief. He always wore his silk shirt, tie, and gloves only once, and then threw them away. He lived in hotels, and only stayed in rooms with numbers that could be divided by three. There were always 18 napkins at his table when he ate. He used them to clean and polish the silverware and crystal before each meal. He almost always ate his meals alone, and he never ate with a woman. Tesla always measured the exact amount of the soup, coffee, and every portion of food before eating.

- ① 여덟 개의 언어를 말할 수 있었다.
- ② 항상 비단 손수건을 가지고 다녔다.
- ③ 방 번호에 3이 들어간 객실에서만 투숙했다.
- ④ 여자와 함께 식사를 하지 않았다.
- ⑤ 식사 전에 늘 자신의 식사량을 측정했다.

[39 ~ 40] 다음 글의 요지로 가장 적절한 것을 고르시오.

39. We come to this world knowing only the basic survival skill of sucking milk from our mother's breasts. Every other skill, including talking, eating, crawling, and walking, is acquired. Violence is no exception. Extensive research has shown that watching violent scenes leads people, especially children, to become violent. And the proof cannot be denied. We all know that children learn from adults. Thus, if there is violence in the home, children think that this behavior is acceptable. In later life, they carry out acts of violence because they think that it is acceptable behavior.

- ① 모유를 먹은 아이들이 더 건강하게 자란다.
- ② 환경이 유아기의 신체 발달에 영향을 미친다.
- ③ 아이들은 하지 말라는 행동을 하고 싶어 한다.
- ④ 인간의 폭력적인 성향은 후천적으로 형성된다.
- ⑤ 나이가 들면서 인간의 폭력성은 점차 사라진다.

40. There are many things in life that we do not know, and there is freedom in saying "I don't know." When we admit this, we can then open ourselves up to the opportunity to learn—and there is power in that. We cannot possibly know everything. And when we think we do, we limit ourselves from growing and learning more. People who can admit not knowing tend to be more intellectually and emotionally confident than those who pretend to know everything. They are also likely to be more comfortable with who they are, and thus don't feel the need to cover up their ignorance. People can actually end up appearing more foolish when they act as if they had knowledge that they do not.

- ① 편안한 학습 분위기를 조성해야 한다.
- ② 모른다는 사실을 인정할 줄 알아야 한다.
- ③ 상대방의 입장을 이해하려고 노력해야 한다.
- ④ 새로운 것에 대한 지적 호기심을 가져야 한다.
- ⑤ 어려운 상황에서도 자신감을 잃지 말아야 한다.

[41 ~ 42] 다음 글의 제목으로 가장 적절한 것을 고르시오.

41. As Robert Pirsig comments in his book, don't trust a mechanic who listens to music while working on your car. If he is listening to music, then he is not listening to the engine. As for me, I write more quickly and effectively when the stereo is off. It is impossible to create a sentence and listen to a passage of Tchaikovsky. If I'm trying to do both, then I'm actually switching between the two, inevitably taking more time and causing more errors to my writing and thinking. Therefore, music should not be present where careful mental work is required.

* passage: 악절

- ① Music: Friend or Enemy for Work?
  - ② Types of Music Good for a Workplace
  - ③ Positive Effects of Music on the Brain
  - ④ Music and Noise: How Are They Different?
  - ⑤ Listen to Music and Improve Your Performance

42. If you're like me, you have too many pairs of jeans, too many pairs of shoes, and too many shirts. You have last season's coats, socks you don't wear, and clothes you outgrew two years ago. Your closet is full, but you're still growing, so every year you're piling up old stuff that doesn't fit. Resist the desire to sell it in a garage sale. Instead, give it to those who will treasure it. Homeless shelters are always in need of decent clothing. In fact, most homeless people would give anything for new clothing. Why not give your old shoes or jacket to the guy on the street corner?

- ① Get Rich by Selling Used Items!
  - ② Cherish Your Childhood Memories!
  - ③ Put on More Clothes to Save Energy!
  - ④ Stand Out and Be a Fashion Leader!
  - ⑤ Donate Old Stuff for the Homeless!

43. 글의 흐름으로 보아, 주어진 문장이 들어가기에 가장 적절한 곳은?

You could, for example, have a notice board in your room, where you can pin up important notes.

Display your class work in noticeable positions so that you can be constantly reminded of it. ( ① ) You can also use the board as a place to post all those sticky notes reminding you of things you have to do for your classes. ( ② ) If you don't have space for a board, you can try the refrigerator. ( ③ ) For this you can use fridge-magnets to hold your work in place. ( ④ ) By displaying your work in this way, you can have a constant visual reminder of it. ( ⑤ ) You can also check your progress in your studies and have a feeling of pride and achievement.

44. 주어진 글 다음에 이어질 글의 순서로 가장 적절한 것은?

Every summer my family goes to the Ontario Place for a day trip. Before we go, I always look online to see if there are any coupons, as the entrance fee is quite expensive.

45. 다음 글의 내용을 한 문장으로 요약하고자 한다. 빈칸 (A)와 (B)에 들어갈 말로 가장 적절한 것은?

Have you ever heard a song on the radio that you didn't like until it started to appeal to you? This is true of anything—a person, a place, or even a product. You may not like some people at first, but after a while you grow to like them, and sometimes you even become their friend. Companies sometimes advertise a picture of a product, or its name repeatedly, without providing any specific features or benefits of the product. Then you see the advertisement over and over again. One day, you find yourself coming out of a shop with the product in your hand.

As we are more (A) to a particular thing, it becomes more (B) to us.

(A)	(B)
① exposed	..... unfamiliar
② exposed	..... attractive
③ opposed	..... unfamiliar
④ opposed	..... useless
⑤ opposed	..... attractive

[46 ~ 48] 다음 글을 읽고, 물음에 답하시오.

(A)

When I was in college, I had a friend named Vasanth. His mother had a kidney problem. His father had already passed away. Away from home, (a) he was sharing a small room with five other people.

(B)

I published it in a local newspaper. The next week, I got a reply from a person. (b) He wrote a letter saying that a hospital is providing free medical treatment for patients with kidney problems. Then my friend took his mother into that hospital and she was on her way to recovery.

(C)

During the holidays, (c) he went to thank the person who had helped him. But he only advised Vasanth to read the newspaper every day and serve the poor by informing them of the free services. (d) He came back home and started to follow that advice. Now his mother recovered and they were happy again.

(D)

One day, he got a letter from his mother saying that her kidney problem was getting worse. He was helpless. (e) He did not know how to handle this. I asked a private hospital for help, but they refused to provide treatment for his mother. Then one of my professors gave me an idea to publish the story in a newspaper asking for help.

Every time I receive a wedding invitation, I go to a shop and buy an old-fashioned ice cream maker as a gift. Every couple's response is the same. First they look puzzled, and then they say 'thank you' before setting the thing aside. Eventually, they will put the ice cream maker on a shelf or in the garage and forget about it. Time will pass as they settle into the day-to-day business of being husband and wife. One day, one of them will happen to think of the ice cream maker.

My husband Rick and I were just such a couple. The giver grinned as we tried to disguise our surprise and smile. We never even took the maker out of its box. Instead, it was quickly shipped to our home with the other gifts. After our honeymoon, we settled into the predictable lifestyle of a newly married couple. Within months, the routines of married life were in place. Then it happened: we had our first fight. I slammed the bedroom door, threw myself on the bed and cried. Rick went out.

Hours passed by before he finally returned, carrying a paper bag. "What's that?" I asked, with anger in my voice. "Salt," he said. "Don't we have an ice cream maker?" "In the garage," I replied sharply. "Let's make ice cream!" That's what he said. That's what we did after our first fight in our marriage. The ice cream was the best we'd ever eaten. Like ice cream melting in our mouths, our _____ was gone.
